

| Analysis

Deterring private discrimination, constitutionally

Illustration by Farzana Cooper.

Thulasi K. Raj Thulasi K. Raj is a lawyer at the Supreme Court.

Published on: 26 Oct 2021, 3:47 pm

Follow Us

Subscribe to gain access to this premium story.

To access our premium articles and enjoy an uninterrupted reading experience, please consider subscribing to one of our plans.

View all plans

Already a subscriber? Sign in

constitution of india

indian constitution

Caste Discrimination

Dalits

Constitutional Law

social justice

discrimination

Slider Post

Article 15\(2\)

Discrimination of Dalit

Indian Medical Association vs. Union of India

Related Stories

A taxing tale: Assessing the impact of six years of GST

Arun Kumar · 01 Jul 2023

Incorrect data undermines analysis and policy

Arun Kumar · 07 May 2023

RTI data during the pandemic: many departments show dip in the number of applications, but some record steep rise in rejections

Venkatesh Nayak · 04 Mar 2022

A case for removal of Paragraph 4 of the Tenth Schedule to the Constitution

Nikhil Parikshith · 04 Mar 2022

THE LEAFLET
CONSTITUTION FIRST

About Us | Editorial Board | The Leaflet Team | Privacy Policy | Write For Us |
Grievance Redressal Mechanism | Careers | Subscription Plans | Membership Policy |
Terms and Conditions

2025 © The Leaflet. All Rights Reserved

Powered by Quintype